

Council on Accreditation of Two-Year Colleges

SPONSORSHIP FORM

The Council on Accreditation of Two-Year Colleges (CATYC) is a non-profit 19-state organization of two-year colleges in the United States. The Council was formed in 1938 to advocate for the uniqueness of community colleges with the North Central Association (Higher Learning Commission) accrediting agency. Today, CATYC is focused on activities which promote and support quality educational standards, practices, and policies for two-year colleges.
